Unique 3 Bedroom House The Johnston Tower Keithhall, Inverurie AB51 0LQ

Set in 25 acres of private landscaped grounds, the Johnston Tower is a unique, fully refurbished 3 bedroom house that forms part of the 'A Listed' Keithhall House, originally constructed as Caskieben Castle in the 16th Century. In 1984 Keithhall was converted to residential use, creating an exclusive community within a stunning countryside setting. The Johnston Tower is a unique opportunity to acquire a property of genuine architectural and historic significance and enviable character.

Internally, the Johnston Tower has been subject to an extensive refurbishment program throughout the property, carried out in a way sympathetic to the original features of the property while providing all elements required for modern living.

Externally, the subjects benefit from an exclusive secure single garage within a small terrace of garages. There is also a turfed private garden with small patio area, accessed via the kitchen. The remaining grounds of the estate, extending to approximately 25 acres, was originally landscaped by Capability Brown in the 18th Century and is shared by the occupiers of Keithhall, boasting thriving wildlife, lake and communal barbeque area.

The subjects benefit from mains electric central heating and mains water. However, interested parties should satisfy themselves regarding the detailed whereabouts and capacity of services.
